Where We Stand Out

STRONG PROFESSIONAL NETWORK

01

The members of IEEE CS Student Branches are a part of the global IEEE network, including tech professionals, academics, and the students around the world.

A GLOBAL PLATFORM FOR STUDENTS

02

IEEE CS offers students global exposure through international conferences, competitions, research opportunities, and a network spanning 160+ countries.

ACCESS TO INDUSTRY & ACADEMIA

03

IEEE CS Pulchowk Student Branch connects students to industry and academia through expert-led tech talks, hands-on workshops, and mentorship from professionals and researchers.

FLAGSHIP COMPETITION

04

IEEE's flagship competitions offer global exposure and opportunities by connecting students with international peers, industry experts, and real-world challenges.

ABOUT THE EVENT

‘ It begins with a crazy idea and a blank screen ‘

IEEE GameJam 2026 is a national-level game development marathon that brings together young innovators, designers, and developers to collaborate and build playable digital games within a limited time around a shared theme.

Participants will form teams and design original games based on a surprise theme revealed at the opening ceremony. Under expert mentorship and competitive spirit, teams will transform ideas into real digital products within 48 hours.

It's not about perfection. it's about creativity, collaboration, and courage to build something from nothing.

GOAL OF THE EVENT

Unleash creativity and empower participants to build playable games from scratch, while learning teamwork, problem-solving, and hands-on development experience.

Encourage Innovation and Originality

Inspire students to break away from templates, explore bold ideas, and create unique, imaginative games that showcase their creativity.

Hands-On Interaction

To provide an engaging platform where participants can collaborate, interact, and learn designing and developing games

Inclusive & Competitive Spirit

To foster a respectful, inclusive, and stimulating environment where teamwork and ethical competition are encouraged.

Cultivate a Community

To connect like-minded students who share a passion for technology, design, and games, networking, and a lasting creative community.
